STRIKE BY TEACHERS APPEARS IMMINENT

Teachers in eight school jurisdictions will probably be compelled to withhold services, according to a statement Friday by D.J. Corse, bargaining representative for the teachers.

The probable withdrawal of services is the result of conflict between trustees and teachers in the North Central (Western) Alberta School Authorities Association (NCWASAA), which consists of the school jurisdictions of Jasper, Grande Cache, Parkland, Drayton Valley Separate, Lac Ste. Anne, Thibeault, Westlock and Barrhead.

Mr. Corse stated that teachers had tried to end the conflict by accepting a Conciliation Award and by favoring continuing mediation talks, but that the unanimous rejection by school trustees of the Award and their continued refusal to negotiate realistically have led to little progress.

At the September 21st meeting of Parkland School Committee Mr. R. A. Bailey reported on negotiations and advised that the bargaining team for N.C.A.S.A.A. Group 2 West made a new offer which the opposing party agreed to take to the teachers. He said that on reviewing the latest position, the teachers and member boards did not appear too far apart.

A meeting for all member boards was planned for the County office in Stony Plain at 7:00 p.m. on Monday, September 27.

The teacher spokesman outlined several issues in the contract dispute. Although salaries do not appear to be the major issue, they are still a factor.

Teachers felt that the consultation clause on conditions of employment was very important, since, although it did not interfere with trustee policy making, it guaranteed that teachers would be able to present their views on educational matters. Trustees would have been free to accept or reject the teachers' views when they drew up policy.

Mr. Corse stressed that the objection of trustees in the NCWASAA to the consultation clause on the grounds that if trustees let teachers present their views, that teachers would soon be making the policy also, was, in his words "too ridiculous for further comment." He further stated that the idea that trustees and teachers should cooperate in their efforts to provide quality education assumes that school boards should consult with their teachers.

Other issues in the dispute involve salaries for administrators, the retention of pro-rata or the payment of teachers for partial years of university training, school board contributions to health and insurance plans, and the number of assigned hours in the teacher work week.

Most teachers in the NCWASAA are starting their second year of service with their present school boards without having a contract. Trustee offers to the teachers have been far from minimal teacher expectations, he said.

A final trustee offer requested by the teacher negotiating committee is being voted upon by teachers in the eight school jurisdictions involved.

To date, teachers have been overwhelmingly rejecting the final trustee offer since the trustees did not seriously attempt to reach reasonable solutions for the issues involved in the conflict, Mr Corse said.

He added that teachers are also giving their Strike Committee the authority to set a strike date and to reach a quick settlement with trustees in the NCWASAA.

Ministers to View Brazeau Situation

M.L.A. Rusty Zander reports that two ministers of the new Progressive Conservative Government have planned a visit to this area to examine the possibility of improving the Brazeau Dam flood area for recreation purposes.

William Yurko, Minister of Environment and Allen Warrack, Minister of Lands and Forests, are expected out within a few days, with the date not yet definite.

They will meet with town and country representatives, as well as representatives from Fish and Game Associations from Drayton Valley, Warburg and Breton. A tour of the area is planned as well as a flight for an air view.

It is understood that an unusual opportunity will be presented this winter to do something about trees standing in the flood area. It is reported that the North Saskatchewan River will be using most of its flow to fill the Big Horn reservoir, and during this time the Brazeau will have to be released to permit a continued flow in the North Saskatchewan channel.

During this time the Brazeau is expected to fall back into its pre-dam channel through the flood area providing an opportunity to remove trees and logs that are now surrounded by water.

Date of the ministers' visit has not yet been established but Mr. Zander advises that persons concerned will be advised if the visit should be scheduled before the next issue of The Western Review

Community Fetes Couple

A large number of area residents gathered in the Moon Lake Hall Friday evening to honor Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jensen who recently ended long terms of service to the community in the Moon Lake Post Office.

With Mrs. Jensen's retirement, the office was closed down on September 18th.

Operation of the post office has been in the Jensen family hands for 45 years. It was opened, and named, by Mr. Carl P. Jensen in 1926. On his retirement, his eldest son, Leo, became postmaster, and he in turn, was followed by his wife on retirement.

Presentation of an engraved scroll, and gifts from the community, was made by Mr. Fred Cherrington, another long-time resident of the community.

Mr. Jack Bright, Drayton Valley Postmaster, extended best wishes to the couple and also read a letter of commendation from D. G. Walker, Director of Alberta District, Western Postal Region.

Task Force to Study Alberta Fiscal Policy

Alberta Municipal Affairs Minister, Hon. Dave Russell, has announced that a working Task Force of Alberta Government M.L.A.'s will take over the duties of the Provincial-Municipal Fiscal Commission appointed by the previous administration.

Under terms of reference the Task Force will report directly to the Minister of Municipal Affairs and will involve the Alberta Urban Municipalities Association and the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties insofar as terms of reference and programming is concerned.

The Municipal Affairs Minister pointed out that the members of the Task Force all have many years practical working background and experience in the field of Provincial-Municipal relations.

The M.L.A. Task Force is made up of the following: Roy Farran, Calgary North Hill, Chairman; John Batiuk, Vegreville; Cliff Doan, Innisfail; Don McCrimmon, Ponoka; Rusty Zander, Drayton Valley.

Mr. Farran has served the City of Calgary as Alderman since 1962 and while on Council, served on the Calgary General Hospital Board, the Calgary Planning Commission and was chairman of the Calgary Standing Committee on operations and development.

Mr. Batiuk is a former councillor of the Municipal District of Lamont, reeve of the county of Lamont and a member of the Provincial Economic Council of the Alberta School Trustees Association.

Mr. Doan has been a rural municipal councillor for 25 years, reeve of the county of Red Deer for 16 years and a member of the Alberta Municipal Advisory Committee.

Dr. McCrimmon has been on the Ponoka town council for five years, two years as Mayor of Ponoka and four years on the Ponoka Municipal Hospital Board.

Mr. Zander is a former councillor of the Municipal District of Stony Plain, deputy reeve, then reeve, of the county of Parkland and a former president of the Rural Telephone Association.

"The appointment of the Task Force to replace the Commission achieves the following three desirable objectives," said Municipal Affairs Minister Hon. D. Russell.

"It involves elected, rather than appointed people who are directly responsible to the citizens of the province of Alberta; it involves an excellent cross-section of persons who have been involved in the field of Provincial-Municipal relations; and, it puts elected M.L.A.'s to work in a very positive way and will result in a very substantial saving to the Provincial Treasury. Established by the former administration, the Provincial-Municipal Fiscal Commission was to receive appropriations amounting to $250,000 to carry out the study."

Municipal Affairs Minister Mr. Russell points out that the new M.L.A. Task Force will provide important input data for the Task Force on Urbanization and the Future. This Task Force was established to examine problems associated with urbanization in the province of Alberta in co-operation with the ten Alberta cities.

TERMS OF REFERENCE

1. To make an inquiry into the proper division of responsibilities between the province of Alberta and the Local Authorities, including municipal, educational and health authorities, with a view of determining

(i) the nature of the services that can best be discharged by the provincial government; and local authorites; and

(ii) the fairest, most economical and efficient means of funding the services to be provided by Local Authorities, including the allocation by the province to Local Authorities of specific sources of revenues; and a definite percentage of specific fields of revenue; not excluding the possibility of the provision of conditional or unconditional grants the province to Local Authorities to supplement, if necessary, the specified sources of revenue.

2. With additional powers and guided by policies and procedures as set out in the Appendix attached hereto.

APPENDIX

1. In particular, but not to the exclusion of other matters, the M.L.A. Task Force on Provincial-Municipal Financing (hereinafter called "the Task Force"), shall

(a) Co-operate and co-ordinate its studies in the field of education with the study being carried on by the Commission on Educational Planning in the financing of the total educational organization as is provided in Section 1, Clause (e) of the Appendix to Order-in-Council numbered O.C.1127/69.

(b) Enlist the aid of government officials at all levels and in all departments of the government in the consideration of the problems involved in this inquiry.

(c) Consult with such organizations and individuals as the Task Force may deem desirable, and accept for consideration such articles and submissions from such persons or organizations as the Task Force may deem desirable, and include in their consideration any questions which they may hold to be relevant.

2. The Task Force shall, in addition to the aforementioned, pay special regard to the following possibilities and problems:

(a) The possible relief of property tax from the financing of human resource programmes such as education, health and welfare.

(b) the possibility of funding the Foundation Plan for Education wholly by the province.

(c) the possible exemption of senior citizens from any responsibility for education funding through property tax.

(d) the exemption of senior citizens from medicare premiums

(e) the present and future debt load at both levels of government.

(f) ways and means of financing transportation requirements in the province.

(g) areas in which possible savings may be effected in government spending at all levels.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Allen Sulatycky, M.P.

A bill outlining the proposed new Family Income Security Plan, or FISP, has been tabled in the House of Commons by National Health and Welfare Minister, John Munro.

When enacted, the legislation will replace the former Family Allowances and Youth Allowances programmes presently in force. Benefits are now paid to all families, irrespective of income, or the basis of the ages of the children. Under the new program, payments will be made on the basis of family income, family size, and the ages of the children.

The underlaying purpose of FISP, to make more efficient use of the dollar by channelling more money into the hands of lower-and middle-income families, is all part of a larger "package" of total income security which the federal government has developed.

The revised version of FISP, within proposed family income levels, covers all dependent child ren under eighteen and provides benefits of up to $15.00 a month for children under twelve, and up to $20.00 a month for children between the ages of twelve and seventeen inclusive.

To make these benefits more selective, a family "income floor of $4,500.00 for a family with one child, plus $500.00 for each additional child, has been, established.

While families with incomes below this "floor", will receive the maximum benefits, the payments made to families whose incomes rise above it will decrease. To avoid any disincentive to work however, the reductions will be small; approximately thirty-three cents for every $100.00 of income above the "floor".

A major consideration is that these new FISP benefits will not be taxable.

It is anticipated that under FISP over two million families will receive benefits and of those, one and a quarter million will get maximum amounts. This latter figure embraces most of the 150,000 mothers who are, by themselves, supporting over 39 300,000 children.

The Family Income Security Plan was developed after much consultation with the provincial governments, interested organizations, and individuals.

In a programme directed towards total income security for all Canadian, FISP must be seen as a key element, along with Unemployment Insurance, Old Age Security and its Guaranteed Income Supplement, the Canada Pension Plan and the Canada Assistance Plan. All these plans interlock to assure comprehensive protection and support in a manner that produces effective use of contributions and tax monies.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By Kevin Peterson and Don Sellar (Of the Calgary Herald)

A five-man task force of Conservative MLAs--all with extensive municipal government experience--has been given a full year to probe the complexities of municipal-provincial financial relations.

The committee, established by Municipal Affairs Minister David Russell, will replace the Maynard Commission set up in July by the previous administration. Its deliberations will effectively postpone major alterations to Alberta's property tax structure for at least two years.

Mr. Russell named Roy Farran, a Calgary alderman who now represents Calgary-North Hill in the Legislature, to the position of chairman. The task force head has earned a reputation for understanding the difficult area of government finances.

Rural Albertans dominate the committee. John Batiuk of Vegreville, Cliff Doan of Innisfail, Don McCrimmon of Ponoka and Rusty Zander of Drayton Valley will join Mr. Farran on the committee.

In announcing the task force, Mr. Russell scrapped the three-man Maynard Commission, an appointed body which he regarded as inferior to one composed of elected politicians.

The Tory government has plugged in a number of major campaign promises for Mr. Farran's committee to evaluate. These include the PC proposal that the province assume 100 per cent of the cost of basic education services and end municipal assistance grants.

Local property taxes, the Tories contended on the hustings, should pay for local services only and the province should look to other taxation fields to finance its responsibilities in health, education and welfare.

It is possible Mr. Russell will be able to provide a measure of property tax relief for senior citizens before the committee finishes its report. The new municipal affairs minister has assigned this move top priority and could introduce legislation on it in 1972.

The Farran committee is the latest in a long series of govemment attempts at satisfying all the opposing interest groups in the field of property tax reform.

Through their four-year term in opposition, the Conservatives took great delight in criticizing the Socreds for dragging their heels on meaningful tax reform.

Now that they are the govemment, the tables have turned and it is the Socreds who already are deriding the delay. Art Dizon, Socred MLA for Calgary-Millican, greeted the Farran committee's appointment by labelling it a "stall tactic."

He also criticized the Tories for restricting the committee to government back-benchers. "If you're going to take the job away from appointed people and give it to elected ones then you should appoint representatives from all three of the parties in the House."

Editorial Comment

Glimmer of Hope

The possibility of lowering the level of the flood area at the Brazeau Dam this winter (reported elsewhere in this issue) could provide an opportunity to improve the lake that may never occur again. If the water level is lowered, as the report indicates it may, a massive clean up could take place and after refilling we could have a tremendous recreational asset of benefit to our region and, in fact, all Albertans.

Concerned persons should organize immediately and prepare factual material to present an informed case for improving the area to government representatives when they visit here.

If the opportunity should materialize -- let's not let it slip by.

Look for Park Potential

The Western Review joins the Alberta Fish & Game Association and various naturalist groups in their stand against British army manoeuvres at Suffield, Alberta.

The area is in one of the arid parts of Alberta with grass and tree cover extremely sparse It would erode rapidly under the wheels of tanks and other military vehicles. It is however, ideally suited as a refuge for prairie wildlife.

It seems a reasonable request that the army conduct its manoeuvres in some other area that would recover more readily than the dry Suffield terrain. At least, until biologists have had the opportunity of assessing possible damage and the potential of the region as a grasslands national park and wildlife sanctuary.

Pot Still Boiling

The editor of the Smithers, B.C. Interior News in a recent editorial tore head-first into Premier Bennett's edict banning liquor and tobacco advertising. He's been getting a lot of response from both sides of the fence in subsequent editions.

We aren't aware of applicable significance but got a chuckle out of the cartoon below that appeared on one of his "lily-white Pages".

Pool Enjoys Good Season

The Drayton Valley Swimming Pool closed early in September after a summer season that saw an attendance total of 53,869. Total receipts amounted to $13,243.74.

Miss Linda McMorris, Pool Supervisor, reports that a total of 598 persons took swimming lessons with 490 (83.3 per cent) receiving pass marks in the Red Cross examinations.

Results by categories were: Senior, 49, 41 passed; Intermediate, 100, 55 passed; Survival, 65, 61 passed; Junior, 105, 93 passed; Beginners, 147, 138 passed; and Pre-Beginners, 132, 112 passed.

Pre-Marriage Course Planned

The regular luncheon meeting of the Drayton Valley Ministerial Association was held at Dave's Restaurant on Friday, September 24th. Final details were ironed out on providing a non-denominational pre-marriage course for young people in Drayton Valley and surrounding districts.

Concern was voiced on the increasing use of drugs by young people. It was decided that a concentrated effort be undertaken during October by way of prayers in each church to stem the tide of drugs in this area.

United Church Setting For September Wedding

On Saturday, September 4th, 1971 at 3:30 p.m. Colleen Gladys, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Holmen, Drayton Valley was united in marriage to Alexander Neil MacPherson, older son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie MacDonald, Apple Hill, Ontario.

The lovely young bride entered the church on the arm of her father, in a simple gown of white satin and lace flairing to a short train and carrying a bouquet of yellow mums. The floor length veil was held in place by a halo of yellow mums in her hair. Her only jewellery, a gold locket, a gift from the groom.

Preceeding her down the aisle was little Mona Mayan as flower girl in a long dress of white and carrying yellow mums. Attending the bride were Debby Holmen, sister of the bride, Donna MacDonald, sister-in-law of the bride and Miss Dorothy Radstaak as maid of honor, friend of the bride. They wore identical gowns of blue crepe with halos of flowers and bouquets of white and blue mums. Attendants to the groom were Bill MacDonald as best man, brother of the groom, Howard Baker and Brian Strulchuck of Edmonton friends of the groom.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. E. Oldring in the United Church, Drayton Valley amid beautiful floral arrangements given to the bride and groom from Mr. and Mrs. Stan Zurak of Thorsby. Lovely music was played on the organ under the capable hands of Miss Judy Hauer of Edmonton.

The bride's mother chose beige with dark brown accessories and a yellow corsage completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Hilda Rand, acting mother to the groom was lovely in a red and white ensemble complemented with a corsage of off-white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Legion Hall, very aptly catered by the Ladies' Auxiliary. Mr. Hans Lemermeyer as Master of Ceremonies made a very pleasant task of his duties. Telegrams were read from Edmonton and Ontario. Toast to the bride was made by Dale Mayan; to the bridesmaids by Bill MacDonald; and to the parents by Sgt. Layton Lonstrup of Calgary.

An open house to their many friends and relations rounded out the evening.

The happy couple left on their honeymoon to Ontario the same evening, where once again they were feted by Alex' family and friends in Apple Hills.

Upon their return Colleen will resume her studies at Misericordia Hospital and Alex his work in Drayton Valley.

Couple Celebrate 50th Anniversary

On August 29th Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart of Entwistle were honored on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Celebrations took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Relling.

A turkey dinner arranged by their three daughters was served to the family and relatives followed by open house for their many friends who came from Wainwright, Edmonton, McKay, Wildwood, Entwistle, Moon Lake, Round Valley and Rocky Rapids.

Among the relatives attending were Mrs. Stewart's brother Kenneth Austin, her three sisters, Belle Delano, Katherine McKillop and Ella McRae. Also sixteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren, several nephews, nieces, a sister-in-law, Dollie Stewart, who came from Cape Breton, Nova Scotia for the occasion.

Sid Delano was toastmaster and spoke very well of several incidents and happenings which occured during their many years in the district, which was responded to by the bride and groom of 50 years. They thanked their daughters for their kind efforts and for so many coming to wish them well, and the lovely gifts received.

They received many gifts and well wishes as they were well known having lived in Alberta since 1926 after moving here from Nova Scotia. They farmed in the Brightwood district until they sold their farm and moved to Entwistle.

Be a Junior Firefighter

Do you know how many serious fire hazards are often found in the home? Do you know how to recognize them? If you do, then YOU can become an OFFICIAL JUNIOR FIREFIGHTER!

Below is a list of six situations you often find in many homes. Read them, and decide if they are or are not fire hazards. Then mark the "yes" or "no" box. Instead of using a check mark, use a little flame! Then clip this ad, and take it to your nearest Fire Hall.

Everyone with a correct entry will receive an official JUNIOR FIREFIGHTERS CARD—signed by the Fire Chief and authorized by the Alberta Fire Commissioner.

Here are the six possible fire hazard situations. We have done the first one for you, to show you just exactly how to mark the boxes.

Drama Group Plans Active Season

The Junior High drama program has been expanded to five classes this school term and a make-up clinic has been planned for October. The clinic is sponsored by the Provincial government drama department.

Also invited to the clinic are students from the Frank Maddock High School drama class and St. Anthony Separate School drama students. Because of the heavy registration two or three instructors from Edmonton will be necessary.

The Junior High drama students have been active in a raffle during recent weeks in order to raise money for necessary equipment to make their program and experience more full. The response of the community to the raffle has been terrific and the Junior High drama staff with their classes are more than grateful to Drayton Valley residents.

The raffle draw has been slightly delayed but is planned for mid-October when the drama group will have a junior high dance.

The next day the winner will go on a $150 shopping spree in Drayton Valley where they will have until 6:00 p.m. to spend all the money - what is not spent will be lost. The winner may spend in as few or in as many shops as he or she decides.

The folk dancing clinic is also being planned for local drama students. In class the students are presently involved in pantomine, creative drama and yoga fitness exercises.

A number of students will be going to the jubilee auditorium in Edmonton next Tuesday to see the dress rehearsal of "From Drum To Drum", being directed by Miss Alice Polly of the Provincial drama department.

Four students from Drayton Valley spent a period of their summer break at the Provincial drama school in Drumheller and this proved a highlight of their young lives. It is hoped that other students will be able to go this coming summer to Drumheller.

The drama department has now decided to offer yoga classes to the community and registration forms for this can be obtained from the recreation office or from the Junior High School. These are mixed classes, one for youth under 18 and one for adults 18 years and over.

The class size will be restricted to somewhere between 24 and 32 members and will be held at the present Junior High School.

With yoga physical fitness, philosophy the Russian national team has been able to constantly outskate our Canadians but not necessarily out-play them. Amateur and professional athletic teams are now turning to yoga training techniques (B.C. Lions for example).

There are now 1006 yoga classes in Alberta alone and it is felt that the benefits of physical fitness offer yoga with aid in community spirit in Drayton Valley.

Again a thank you to the Drayton Valley community and surrounding area for supporting the drama raffle so well. You may be assured the money will go a long way in giving our youth a greater educational experience.

Buck Lake Girl Wed at Rocky Mountain House

A beautiful wedding of wide interest took place Saturday evening, August 21, 1971 at 8:00 p.m. in the First Christian Reformed Church at Rocky Mountain House, Alberta, when Debra Coleen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weston Bouck of Buck Lake was united in marriage to William David, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. David Goldsney, of Winfield, Alberta.

Reverend Clarence Bishop performed the double-ring ceremony in which the couple repeated their wedding vows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a sleeveless pant-gown of pale green embossed polyester crete on a silver background, featuring a cross-over top with a matching bow, silver pants, long white gloves and white shoes. Her bouquet was yellow and white carnations and lily-of-the-valley. Her only attendent was her sister, Miss Kathie Bouck, who wore a midi-pant-gown of lilac textured fortrel, with button closing, self ruffles at jabot front, neckline and long sleeves; white satin-back rayon pants, and white accessories. Her bouquest was of lilac and white carnations and lily-of-the-valley.

The bride's mother chose a mint green polyester crepe dress with long full sleeves gathered at the wrist, a deep rose carnation corsage, and white accessories.

The groom's mother wore a blue, short-sleeved fortrel dress, white accessories, and her corsage was white carnations fringed with blue.

The best man was Mr. Ralph Wagar of Winfield, Alberta and the ushers were Mr. Wade Broderson of Winfield and Mr. Ralph Becker of Buck Lake.

The organist played lovely music, appropriate to the occasion, before and after the ceremony, while the couple signed the register.

A wedding banquet for those present was tastefully served by Mr. Leon Lecerf and Mrs. Doreen Hansen at "The Peak" at 9:00 p.m.

Mr. Larry Guard, brother-in-law of the groom said Grace, and Mr. Jim Longstreet, also brother-in-law of the groom was a very capable Master of Cermeonies. Miss Lenda Goldsney, sister of the groom was in charge of the Guest Book.

The Toast-to-the-Bride was given by the best man and the Master of Ceremonies reminisced on the growing-up years of the bride and groom.

The bride and groom's table was centred with a three tier wedding cake, made and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Annie Capinuik of Alder Flats. The cake had tiny white rosebuds over-all, with larger pink and white roses; the tiers were separated by white swan pillars and the top featured a bride and groom in miniature on a latticed stand with white satin ribbons and tiny pink flowers in the centre. The cake was flanked on either side by pink candles (lighted by the bride and groom) and crystal vases of American beauty roses.

The new groom toasted his bride and they both thanked everyone for the lovely wedding gifts, which were opened and displayed, following the wedding supper and cutting of the cake.

The happy young couple are residing in Rocky Mountain House where the groom is employed by Flint Engineering.

Those attending the wedding were from Edmonton, Sundre, Winfield, Buck Lake, and Rocky Mountain House.

A very large crowd attended the wedding dance, which was held at the Buck Lake Recreation Centre on the following Saturday evening, August 28th.

ANYONE FOR SQUARE DANCING?

For several years square dancing was a popular activity in this community. Then about the mid-sixties it dropped out of sight from the local recreation agenda. Now there are indications that this very lively and entertaining form of activity would make a comeback. If enough interest is evident a local Square Dance Club will be formed this fall.

If you are a square dance enthusiast and would like regular dances locally please call the Drayton Valley Recreation Department expressing your interest.

The number to call is 542-3440 Public interest will be the green light on this proposed program.

BOXING RETURNS

Boxing will return to Drayton Valley this fall after an absence of five years. At a recent meeting the Drayton Valley Athletic Association agreed to sponsor the Drayton Valley Boxing Club. The new Club is under the direction of Lawrence Duperron and training sessions will be held twice a week in the Junior High School Gym. Training will start in the very near future likely early in October. Any boy interested in taking part in this program should get in touch with Mr. Lawrence Duperron or drop into the Recreation office and make his intentions known.

At one time boxing was very popular in this community. It reached its zenith in May 1961 when Drayton Valley hosted the Canadian Boxing Championships. More then fifty of Canada's finest boxers of that day met and decided their superiority in a mammoth tournament that drew over 1600 fans.

After this the sport began to decline locally. Good local boxers either moved away or decided to quit the game and interest waned from year to year until the local Club disbanded in 1966. There always has been a steady flow of Drayton Valley boys in boxing, however, and over the past few years they have very successfully competed under the banner of the Breton Boxing Club.

The Breton Boxing Club under the direction of Larry Knight has been one of the outstanding boxing clubs in Alberta over the past three or four years. Bert and Ray Duperron have developed into first ranking boxers under the Breton Boxing Club banner.

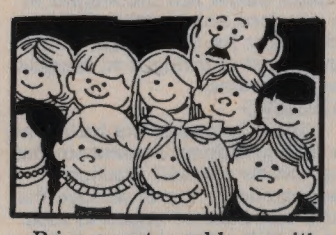
Lawrence Duperron worked closely with Larry Knight in the operation of the Breton Club. Larry will continue on with the Breton Club and Drayton Valley Clubs will work very closely in respect to training and mutual cooperation and assistance.

A few boxing cards will be presented in Drayton Valley throughout the winter season. No dates have been set for any events as yet, however, the public will be kept informed on the progress and the activities of the Club.

DANCING LESSONS

If enough interest is shown dancing lessons will be offered for the following: Polka, Fox-Trot, Waltz, Two-Step, Schottish, Discotheque.

Please call Recreation office at 542-3440 and leave name and number.



Biggest problem with "adult" movies is that there are so many kids in the audience that it's hard to find a good seat.

Amoco Mag. Features River Control Tests

The current issue of Amoco's "Horizons" magazine features extensive coverage of the oil spill control tests conducted earlier this year on the North Saskatchewan River at Drayton Valley.

The front page is a full color air view of tests on the river bank near the bridge and follows with another seven pages in color and black and white of various operations involved in the tests.

The story "Bridge Over Troubled Waters", goes on to explain the pooling of technology by oil companies operating in the Pembina field in a stepped-up effort to improve methods of coping with possible emergencies.

FOR THE HUNTER

With the hunting season here again I thought a word to wives of hunters would be in order. It's that time of year to plan meals around moose, deer, duck,fish and more and more moose and deer.

I've attempted to pass on some general information about Wild Game Cookery in this column but for specific recipes and novel ideas I would recommend you purchase the "Northern Cookbook". It was written by Eleanor A. Ellis for the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development and is really excellent. Now, to some general information about wild meat.

WHY TOUGH MEAT

Research shows this is often the result of excess exercise in the animal, prior to killing. If there is violent activity just before or during slaughter, enzymes are released into the muscles causing toughness in meat. Ideally, the hunter should kill the animal in a surprised state, rather than chasing it for three miles wounding it and allowing it to struggle before it dies.

BLEEDING

This is important for blood has a high gelatinous content so does not freeze and will produce a poor product. Try to remove the hide and internal organs as soon as possible, after killing as these hold in the heat of the animal. The best quality meat is obtained if the carcass is cooled immediately. Ideally, big game should be hung for 2 to 7 days in a room where temperature and humidity can be carefully controlled. This relaxes the state of rigor mortis. Butcher properly. Cooking is easier if the game has been cut into recognizable shapes.

SOAKING

Often you are advised to soak wild game overnight in a salt or vinegar solution. This is no longer recommended. The soaking is not necessary if the carcass is bled and cooled properly. Soaking causes many of the water soluble vitamins to be lost. With the rising cost of meat many families are using wild game as an important part of their food plan. It is not good management to allow nutrients to go down the drain.

FREEZING

Before packing for freezing cut off all visible fat for this gives the "gamey" taste. Fat from wild game contains a large amount of the highly saturated fatty acids which result in a very heavy tallow which goes rancid in storage after a period of time. If the animal is young you may want to leave some fat on but serve the meat piping hot.

As with all meats, wild game should be wrapped carefully in a moisture and vapour proof wrapping. If you want to be sure it will be air tight you can wrap a sheet of saran wrap around the outside of the packages.

All meats should be "sharp frozen." The temperature at which meat freezes is 18° F (not 32° F) which is the freezing temperature of water). Keep in mind that for every 10 pounds of meat put into a home freezer to freeze, the temperature of the unit rises about 5°. You probably keep your freezer at 0°F. so you can see that it is easy to raise the internal temperature of your freezer about 18° What happens if food is frozen slowly? Large ice crystals form which tend to break down the cell walls of the food. As it cools the moisture on the outside evaporates quickly. Both cause a spongy product. When you are ready to use the meat thaw it in the refrigerator. Again this applies to all meat. If the meat is thawed at room temperature, by the time the inside is thawed, the outside has a very high bacteria count.

COOKING

Because wild game does not have the internal fat marbling that you find in domestic meats you'll probably find that it is best served with a good sauce or gravy, or mixed with sausage or bacon to avoid dryness. A technique that I use on moose roast is to flour, then brown the meat on all sides. Make a gravy from the drippings using dried onion soup and then pour this mixture over the meat to roast in a slow oven. It works wonders, for wild game. Another trick I use when cooking ducks is to inject cooking oil right into the breasts using syringe. Try using orange juice for a gourmet treat.

Happy hunting -- and eating.

Pontiac presents its value story for 1972.

Here are some of the features you'll find on the 1972 Pontiacs.

Read about them.

Then compare them with others. Stack them up against your own standard of value.

Then come in and see the new cars at your Pontiac dealer's.

We believe you'll find the real value you've been looking for.

You know you can always count on Pontiac to introduce the kind of newness that means something more than just an extra dressing of tinsel.

This year, on all their full-size models, Pontiac's engineers have turned their attention to the little bumps and bruises of everyday driving life.

They've fitted two steel boxes filled with a resilient material between the front bumper and the frame. On minor impact, this material compresses to absorb energy, then returns to its original shape. And the bumper returns to position.

In addition, they've provided you with the option of ordering a thick strip of rubber-like material that runs the whole width of both front and rear bumpers to help guard against scratches and dings.

Of course, every full-size Pontiac offers many other value features. Like a double-panel roof construction with a perforated inner panel that helps cut down inside noise. Draft-free, upper level ventilation. Side guard beams in all the doors. Engines designed to run on no-lead or low-lead gasolines. Power front disc brakes, power steering and, on V8 models, automatic transmission, all standard.

Pontiac's trim-size LeMans also has something new and exciting to offer you in 1972.

A new luxury series, called, not surprisingly, Luxury LeMans.

Inside there's an instrument panel with the look of rare Ceylonese teak. A "soft" rimmed steering wheel. And comfort. Real comfort. Inches of soft foam padding. Rich fabrics. Plush carpet. And vinyls so soft you could easily mistake them for leather.

Ventura II, Pontiac's newest baby, is a pocket-sized, pocket-priced beauty that is proving so popular that just about all we changed for 1972 was the nameplate.

Ventura II Coupe.

Luxury LeMans Hardtop Coupe.

Firebird for 1972 is Pontiac's great-looking sports car that gives you all the luxury you want and all the sporty performance you want—at a price that will make Firebird most wanted by sports fans.

All this is a mere smattering of the features and values you'll be finding on the 1972 Pontiacs.

Pontiac Grand Prix, Grand Ville, Bonneville, Parisienne Brougham, Catalina, Laurentian, Luxury LeMans, LeMans, Ventura II, Firebird.

If this is the year you're looking for value, this is the year to look at Pontiac. Why don't you?

What Do We Get For Our Money?

By Sara E. Johnson,
Spruce Grove, Alberta

Several times in the past year I've been asked the above question in regard to our Regional Recreation program, and I've always been surprised, because it seems to me we got quite a lot. Since the whole thing has been brought into question, perhaps it would help people to make a wiser appraisal if they knew all the program is doing, instead of just one little piece as seems to be the case in most instances. The best defence against some of the rash statements that are being made is to know the facts.

First of all, what are we trying to do with a Regional Recreation program?

We're trying to make it possible for people out in the country and in our towns and villages to have as many interesting things to do, and chances to learn to do them, as people who live in the city, and to provide it at a price they can afford to pay.

The cheapest and most effective way to do this is to have a small group of professional recreation workers who train volunteers from all the areas of the region, so they can go home and instruct classes in whatever craft they are interested in, or coach a team in whatever game they play. It is one thing to do something, it is a different thing to teach it, and it requires training. Instructors get paid for the hours they teach, coaches in sport do not get paid.

In 1970 our professionals trained 251 people. Someone said to me: "Now that we've got all these people trained, we don't need the professionals any more." My guess is that he didn't ask the instructors and coaches about this brilliant scheme. All the ones I know depend on that staff for so much help, advice and encouragement, that I think they'd all quit if the staff wasn't there.

I keep hearing rumors that some of the participating areas may withdraw from the program, but it can only exist if we all join to-gether. If there are withdrawals, it will be lost altogether and a good recreational program is like virginity: Once you've lost it, you can't get it back. No Provincial Government, of whatever political stripe could ever justify spending so much money and effort on us twice when other areas have had no recreation program at all.

I have been told by one of our recreation board members that the swimming program alone would cost as much as our whole contribution if we tried to arrange it on our own, so let's discuss swimming.

No body appreciates the value of swimming so much as the person who is drowning, and after being hauled out of the water twice in a waterlogged condition, my opinions can hardly be called objective. Indeed, I view my son doing the crawl like a stage mother watching her son play Hamlet. He's a performing miracle.

There's another marvel about the swimming program: They take the kids by bus to the pool. There was a summer before the recreation program started, when I drove my own six and three visiting children to the Devon pool every morning for two weeks. All the way there and all the way back my passengers played "I get the brown cow" at top volume and with a running argument in several directions over their imaginary possessions in livestock, through heat, and rain and flat tires. Now, on summer mornings I rise cheerfully at 5:30 a.m. and wave my offspring "Goodbye" as they go to catch their bus, secure in the knowledge that they can save their lives by learning to swim, and I can save my sanity by staying home.

At the handicraft and flower show held at Stony Plain in August, there were 294 handicraft exhibits, but even this was only the tip of the iceberg, for there nearly 2000 people taking courses in handicrafts last year in this region, and learning the satisfaction you get from creating something.

The years fly past. The world changes beyond recognition. We work all the time and what have we got to show for it? The money we earn is often spent as fast as it comes in, or faster. Housework is like sweeping back the sea. It's success - temporary at best - depends on whether the tides of children or water are running in or out. We hunger for some means of turning our energies and the dissolving hours into something that will last. This is the great satisfaction of doing creative work. We take a lump of clay and an hour of time and turn it into a bowl or an ornament. Something that will be there for years to come. Time made visible, if the kids don't break it.

Painting is the only means I know to make time stand still. We paint because we like the scene, or the look of the person, but years later we discover that we were painting a moment in time, and there it is, caught like a fly in amber; it's subject matter now, either gone from our lives or changed beyond recognition.

I've seen a watercolor of the river valley at Edmonton done in 1902 with Government House newly built on the cliff and the paddle steamer coming round the bend. There were the sheep and the cows still grazing in the meadow, and the footpaths still winding their way to the river, worn by feet long since gone to their rest as has the one who painted it. He spent a pleasant hour to paint a gift for a friend, and it will outlast us all. For some of the most lasting things we do are the things we make for fun. If you look in the museums you will see that a few fragile pieces of pottery or jewellery have outlasted the cities and civilizations that produced them and have long since vanished under the dust of history.

Of course recreation is not all handicrafts. Last year 534 boys played hockey in 33 teams and 60 coaches and managers showed them how. 1186 boys and girls played baseball in 86 teams and 102 volunteers worked as coaches and managers. 29 teams came here from six outside towns to play against our teams.

When you walk into the recreation office in Stony Plain and see the girls sitting there typing, you probably wonder what this has to do with recreation. You may even suspect that the whole thing is turning into a paper bureaucracy, but, I suggest that you consider how much paper it takes to work out game schedules for 148 teams playing in 761 games and send enough notices so that everyone knows who is doing what and where at. The mind boggles at the thought. I don't think I'll even go into all those leagues and age categories which must figure in all those calculations as well.

Besides figuring out things like that, the professional staff: Lena Holgrersen, Georgianna McDavid and Cec Armstrong, spend a good deal of time training instructors. In this way 251 people were trained to teach others and they are the ones who are teaching all those games and crafts.

The pro's are also providing advice and expertize to any community that is building new facilities, like the Enoch Band's new arena, built for $450,000. of their band funds, and the new arena at Wabamun. They know, for instance, how to go about qualifying for grants, so we don't have to raise every last cent by frying hamburgers. When it came to this kind of information, it was better to know Sid Moore than the local bank manager.

When you are counting up the things we get for our money don't forget the playground programs in summer, the 4 day craft camp that 100 attended at Entwistle, the recent 3 day canoe trip from Drayton Valley to Devon when 26 people in 14 canoes discovered what it felt like to be David Thompson or Alexander MacKenzie. There are play schools and skiing classes, sports clinics and figure skating classes.

Already we have the best regional recreation program in Alberta, and people all over the province are watching us to see what we're doing and how we are doing it, in the hope that they can get something like it going in their area, and we are just getting started. Music will be added to the program and there are plans for drama and theatre.

All this for about $4.00 per person per year. It costs $13.60 per day to keep one boy in the Bowden Institute.

Superintendent Oswin of the Correctional Institutions Branch says: "No one knows how many people are kept out of mischief by a good recreation program, but one thing we do know: Idleness breeds crime". In a society where idleness is forced upon us by shorter work hours, earlier retirement, and constant unemployment, especially among young people, a good recreation program is a necessity and for $4.00 a year it's dirt cheap. The whole shot wouldn't pay for 20 boys in Bowden learning how to be worse, and we'd pay that bill too.

Better to help our young people to use their time and intelligence constructively and productively. It's a crushing feeling to know that no one thinks you are worth employing, but if you can make something, or even play baseball well, it restores your feeling of being worth something after all, and if that's not worth the money, what is?

The air you breathe, is the life you have. Keep it clean.

Extra curicular activities include visits to factories and plants, Government buildings, etc. Social activities include: weiner roasts, dances, annual inspection and parent cadet banquet, platter parties, etc.

Competitive opportunities are available for flying scholarships, gliding courses, senior leader courses, internal exchange visits and overseas exchange visits. These opportunities are of course not just competitive in 733 Squadron only, but between cadets recommended from Squadrons across Canada.

Last years program was adversly affected by resignations and transfers of Staff Officers to other locations of employment. A big vote of thanks is due Mr. T. O Oscar, Mr. K. Dusterhoft, Mr. P. Coppens and especially Mr. T. Obst who kept things going from last May on to the end of the Cadet year. One must also thank all the members of the Civillian Committee whose efforts often go unrecognized, for helping straighten out the many problems and for reorganising the squadron for this years start.

The 1971 - 72 program will be starting in full swing on Thursday, September 30th - with a full staff and other volunteers to help lecture on the compulsory and extra activity subjects. Let's make No. 733 Air Cadet Squadron one of the best in the Province. It's us to you - as we must have a certain minimum number of cadets in the Squadron to keep operating.

WHAT IF someone told you you can harvest feed barley at 25% moisture and it would make better feed.

WHAT IF someone told you this grain would not heat and spoil.

There is talk about a chemical which consists mainly of acetic and propionic acid which when added to high moisture grains, not only prevents deterioration but improves feed quality. Although test results are limited, more information is available from your D. A. office.

Lannate was the chemical used in the control of the Bertha armyworm. There have been many questions asked about the effect of this chemical on: Wildlife; cattle; gardens; and oil extracted from sprayed rapeseed crops.

With so much of our thinking now oriented around "pollution" these are justifiable concerns. Some facts are:

* There have been no confirmed cases of wildlife or birds being killed by Lannate.
* Lannate was developed by Dupont Chemical Co. and has been used on vegetable crops in the U.S. for three years and two years in Canada. Because it breaks down into carbon dioxide ammonia and water very rapidly, tomatoes that have been sprayed can be eaten the next day and only a day or two is required before cabbage is safe to eat.
* Rapeseed oil will in no way be affected by Lannate for two reasons. One, the chemical will be degraded long before the crop is combined, secondly Lannate will not dissolve in fats or oils, so it will not be found in rapeseed oil.

So don't hesitate to use rapeseed oil - its the greatest cooking oil as it remains pure as a summer breeze.

HART CANTELON

Readers wishing to write to Mr. Cantelon are invited to do so. All letters to be forwarded to Hart Cantelon Counselling Services Ltd., 1600 Cambridge Building, Edmonton. Please include a stamped self-addressed envelope to ensure a reply.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

I am writing to find out a few things. I would like to know if I could adopt a baby. I am 56 years old and I have two boys. I am able to do my own work. This baby is my grandchild and I would like to adopt him very much. The Social Worker tells me I am too old. Another thing, if you've kept a boy since 1968 till now, could the mother just come and get him or does she have to take legal steps to get him back. What is more, in this family there is a 16 year old girl. Her father wants her to quit school because he has no money to send her. Is there any help for her. I should also tell you that this girl is pregnant and the government are helping her out. Will they help her go back to school?

Dear Grandmother:

If the Social Development Worker has said that you were too old to adopt your grandchild, then, there is nothing you can do, so far as legal adoption is concerned, unless you wish to challenge this decision in the family court. But there is nothing stopping you from caring for the child if the mother agrees. This means that the mother could claim him whenever she wishes,-because the child is legally hers. This also applies to the boy you've been keeping. If this arrangement is just a verbal agreement, then the mother would not likely have to take legal steps to take him away from you. So far as the teen-age girl is concerned, I am sure that since she is under the guidance of the Social Development department, her social worker will see that she is able to get back to school, if this is what the girl wants. However, should she have other ideas, they would not be able to force her to go back to school at the age of sixteen. Talk to her case-worker, and find out what their plans are. But be sure that help is available for her.

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

Our daughter was married to a service-man five years ago. Although, their acquaintance was less than three months, we agreed to the marriage. Immediately, he was posted both near and far. When our daughter became pregnant, she returned to Canada for the birth of their son. During this time, her husband said that he no longer wished to remain faithful as he had someone else. During this time, the boy thinks his father is away. Our daughter has met someone else and says she intends to get married just as soon as the divorce comes through. Now, after four years, the father wishes to come to Canada and see his son. What should our daughter do?

Dear Grandmother:

Legally, the father has visiting privileges. There is no purpose served in keeping the son apart from his Dad. Eventually, he will come to understand all the facts underlying the home situation. Point out in correspondence with the father that the visit is to make a continued relationship with his son possible, but in no way must he read into the invitation the possibility of reconciliation. If these guidelines are laid down, then he knows just what to expect from the visit and also what he must not build on for the future.

MYSTERY OF SACRED BIRDS

In India, even the most unassuming attraction can hold a deep significance for her people, and be of interest to any visitor. A classic example is the mystery of Tirukkalikkundram.

Situated near Madras, Tirukkalikkundram, or the Hill of the Sacred Kites and its crowning temple hold a phenomenon believed to date from the dawn of time.

Every day, always just before noon, two birds land on the hilltop to be fed from the hands of a temple priest. Many devout Indians believe the two birds — called kites and long considered sacred in India — to be the reincarnation of two saints who make a daily pilgrimage between the holy cities of Varanasi in the north and Rameswaram off the south-eastern coast. Tirukkalikkundram is the traditional food and rest stop for their arduous daily journey of approximately 1125 miles across half of this vast sub-continent.

The kites arrive and depart promptly at eleven o'clock each day regardless of weather conditions and have been doing so without fail since time immemorial. The same birds? — many Indians believe they are.

BUCK CREEK NEWS

Mervyn, Alice and Raymond Bevan wish to thank friends and the community for kindness shown during their recent bereavement.

I would like to congratulate the seventeen people of the community who went to Leduc to present the case of the condition of the roads. I have lived in this area a number of years and I have never seen either road, leading out of Buck Creek in a worse state than what we had to travel over all summer and with that large stock pile of gravel so close at hand. I though sure it was going to be framed. This is just one person's opinion, I understand the case presented at this meeting was one of more help needed. One grader and one man, just can't keep the roads in shape. Our community has been growing also with new roads being built all the time. I bet everyone living in this part of the district will be hoping someone got the message.

Don't forget October 1st is Bingo night. The Ladies' Club will be having a bake sale and all contributions will be gratefully accepted. Time 8:00 p.m. sharp.

Lawrence Lind had the misfortune to have his TV antenna blow down last Tuesday. They escaped any damage to the house.

Mrs. Lawrence Houser will be in the hospital for a time. While away, Mrs. Robinson will be replacing Mrs. Houser as teacher.

I was surprised to know there were 10 beginners started school this term, making a total of 47 pupils.

Mr. Ken Gailey arrived home from Ontario last week.
